“At Cape Rey, we strive to bring an element of local exploration into everything we do,” says Rob Stirling, director of sales and marketing. “Our end of summer event allows guests to discover local favorites through a great mix of homegrown music, beer, tastes and products—the things that makes the north county San Diego coast such a go-to destination.”

Providing the ideal soundtrack for this delicious summer evening is Mojo Jackson, a popular San Diego band known for its up-tempo style that combines elements of pop, rock, soul and funk.
